TOKYO DATELINE: -- (Special to The Bulletin) -- Members of the Tokyo Correspondents Club, together with "tox-san" guests, on November 17 celebrated the sixth anniversary of the club founding with a dinner dance. GEORGE HERMAN of CBS acted as em-cee, and brought forth many laughs when TCC awards were made for oustanding achievements which were not always complimentary. The awards were accepted graciously, however, and response by the recipients provided the high spots of entertainment for the evening.

Included among the guests were Danny Kaye, Monica Lewis and June Bruner, of stage and movie fame, who were concluding a USO tour of the Far East Command. At daybreak, a few hardy souls were still celebrating the anniversary. Prexy Joe Fromm has been getting pats on the back for an all-around good party...

OPCer STUART GRIFFIN, historian for Far East Air Forces, has just published a book, "Japan in Pictures", including photos by GRIFFIN, Julian Garrett and Richard Day; doing very well on bookstands here ... Capt. George Carlton, an Air Force censor here, recently sold an article, illustrated with color pix, to National Geographic Magazine. Pix and story are of Japan's Inland Sea. All put together on a weekend pass ... James Michener of "South Pacific" fame, together with Mrs. Michener, currently in Tokyo and Korea gathering material for Holiday magazine ...

Recent visitor was Robert Aura Smith, New York Times editorial writer, who conferred with Premier Yoshida in Japan, President Rhee in Korea and had plans to visit heads of governments in Formosa, Burma, etc., in an around-the-world trip ... Another recent visitor was Everett Mitchell of NBC ... Harold E. Fey, managing editor of the Christian Century, arrived here November 9 and is now in Korea to gather story material ... Newsweek's foreign editor, HARRY KERN, in on November 14 for a 30-day visit to the Far East Command ... Jim Pringle, AP's popular veteran photographer, due to go to the U.S. soon to meet the boss in New York. -- (JACOBUS TenBERGE).

HONG KONG DATELINE: -- (Special To the Bulletin) -- VICTOR KENDRICK, after serving nearly five years in China and Hong Kong, has been transferred by the United Press to Korea. Before his departure, he was given a farewell luncheon by the Foreign Correspondents' Club in Hong Kong by his newspaper colleagues, including ROBERT NEVILLE, STANLEY RICH and EDWARD HUNTER...

The next day HUNTER, whose book, "Brain-Washing in Red China" had just arrived in Hong Kong, flew to Indonesia, where he will continue his roving assignment for the next six weeks or so before returning to Hong Kong. HENRY LIEBERMAN spent several weeks in Formosa before returning to his Hong Kong headquarters...

The suit by Chang Kuo-sin, UP veteran, against the Communist newspaper Wen Wei Pao here is for HK$100,000. Observers are watching this test case, whether the red press in the British Colony can slander and threaten with immunity. The first anti-communist newspaper here, Chung Sing Yat Pao, has been forced to suspend because it was unable to raise the registration fee, raised recently. Newsdom, outstanding Chinese-owned English-language magazine opposing the Reds, has been squeezed out of existence by the same regulation, it announced in its November number. -- (EDWARD HUNTER).

ROUND-THE-WORLD ROUNDUP ... From ROME comes news of a libel suit filed by MICHAEL STERN, Fawcett Publications European correspondent, against the Communist newspaper, L'Unita. As a result of having named Senator Moscatelli, one of the triumvirate ruling Italy's Communist party, is being involved in the murder of Major Holohan, STERN was made a target of the Red press. In a four-column attack on him, L'Unita accused STERN of being an American spy, a false journalist, a secret agent for the American friends of Sicily in a move to make Sicily a 49th state in the Union, and charged he supplied arms to the late Sicilian bandit, Giuliano. STERN promptly sued the director of the paper and the two authors of the piece. On December 15 he leaves for the States to spend Christmas with his family, now wintering in Miami Beach.

In MANIIA, OPCers ROBERT NEVILLE and EGBERT WHITE are getting reacquainted. NEVILLE is Far East bureau chief for Time-Life, and was in Manila for two weeks covering the election and doing a Time cover piece on Defense Secretary Magsaysay (November 26 issue). WHITE recently arrived in Manila to assume his new State Department post as director of the Far East Regional Production Center. Old friends and wartime associates, BOB and BERT and their wives have enjoyed dining, jai alai and visiting together. Also in Manila this week are Martha and CECIL BROWN, who unfortunately became host to some sort of bug which has kept him in bed with a high fever ...

JACK BEGON RESIGNS AS ROME DAILY AMERICAN PUBLISHER; CENTER OF FREEDOM-OF-PRESS DISPUTE INVOLVING OPC

JACK BEGON, former San Francisco Army sergeant who remained in Italy after the war to help found its only English language daily newspaper, this week announced his resignation as publisher of the Rome Daily American.

Control of the Daily American, BEGON said, passes to Louis Cortese of New York who, with BEGON and another ex-GI, launched the newspaper. All had been staffers of the Mediterranean Stars & Stripes.

BEGON last spring figured in a controversial case involving freedom of the press when Rome police closed the Daily American, charging its presses disturbed tenants in nearby apartments. At BEGON's request, the OPC conducted an investigation and finally urged the Italian Government to re-open the newspaper. Within a week after the OPC's memorandum (submitted by the Club's Freedom of Press and Information Committee) had been received in Rome, the Daily American received permission to recommence publication.
